SUBJECT: Project #41.995

The following information is submitted for transmission to RQM/OIS, Case Number K-370:

According to INDUSTRY AND LABOUR, 1 May 1956, the Federal Office of Statistics in the Federal Republic of Germany has recently published information concerning all movements to and from the country in 1954. The figures given in Table I of the note in INDUSTRY AND LABOUR show that of the persons entering the Federal Republic proper during that year, nearly 53 percent (215,887) came from the German Democratic Republic and nearly 16 percent (65,541) from East Berlin. Of those leaving the Federal Republic proper, nearly 17 percent (31,816) went to the German Democratic Republic and nearly 11 percent (20,192) to East Berlin. These data appear to tally with the estimates in the above report regarding migration between West Germany and West Berlin, on the one hand, and East Germany and East Berlin, on the other hand.
